Adah G., who with her family lives at the parental homestead, is wife of Dr. C. M. Clark, formerly of the Norway Advertiser and now a copy reader on the Boston Daily Advertiser. Guy B. Veranda Club Notes.

On Thursday, Oct. 16, the Veranda club enjoyed an autumnal outing by train to West Paris to observe the birthday of Mrs. Maude Mann who is a member of the club. It has been for two years the pleasant custom of the club to observe the birthdays of the club members with a party and supper. Many are the pleasant gatherings of this kind which the club has enjoyed. At each party the hostess is presented with a gift from the club by the president. She is also presented with a birthday card from each one present.

A fine supper is always prepared by the hostess and the members and when all are seated at the tables it would be hard to find a crowd of women more joyously than this club.
At the party just given a fine chicken dinner with mashed potato, celery, salad, hot rolls, doughnuts, cheese, cookies, assorted cake and pies was served. A bouquet of pinkies was placed in the center of the table. These were the gifts of Norway friends.

It was indeed a merry party that enjoyed the birthday dinner and good work was done to all the good things. Harlequin ice cream was also served.

At the close of the dinner all adjourned to the living room when the afternoon was spent in playing whist and games. A special program has been arranged. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Our Father's Farm.

By LYDIA F. LORD.

Written for the Whitehouse Reunion in Sweden.

Of don't you remember the little round spring far away on the dear old farm?

Early in spring, the frogs would sing From its waters so clear and warm.

Close by the barn so old and gray Where the brooding swallows cling, While above the lay of new mown hay From the great beam would swing.

The dear old home still standing there All covered with clinging vines;

How bright the summer sun would shine On the step so broad and tall.

Over you and me and the lilac tree Growing against the wall.

When the silvery moon her watch would keep, After the day was done,

We would go to sleep, with the frogs' soft peep, Nor wake till the rising sun.

Of all the birds on the maple crest Singing so sweet and happily Robin redbreast, we loved the best With his home in the apple-tree.

The old orchard is flourishing still, With its rows of stately trees;

The sweet spring still, its blossoms all With the music of birds and bees.

Around the gray old orchard rock, White birches trim and tall.

In their midst, with every sock, Stand guard about its wall.

EAST OTISFIELD.

Mrs. Edith Davis.

Mrs. Edith (Andrews) Davis, wife of

Elias Davis of Otisfield, passed away

Friday afternoon, Oct. 10, aged 44 years.

She was the daughter of M. Dexter and

Sylvia (Pitts) Andrews of Bell Hill,

Otisfield. Mrs. Davis was married in 1908, moved to her home but a few rods

across the way from her parental home, where she always lived. As a dressmaker she had a long list of customers who will ever cherish pleasant memories of the cheerful and pleasant manner with which she always greeted them. She was one who lived out in every point the motto,

"What is worth doing is worth doing well."

Her was an exemplary life, the memory of which will ever remain with all who knew her. Mrs. Davis has been in poor health for a long time and as she grew worse went to the hospital during the summer, hoping to be benefited, but her case was so serious an operation was not advisable. She was always cheerful and patient, always answering to her mother's inquiries, but many choice pieces among which was a beautiful wreath from the W. R. Corps of Oxford of which Mrs. Davis was a member.

A profusion of cut flowers and bouquets surrounded the casket. The burial was in Elmwood cemetery in the family lot.

A LOVELY FACE—BUT UGLY HAIR

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish! Because that ugly hair, stringy, dull, lifeless-looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the best could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness its wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply spritzing little by little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil and will not change the color of the hair nor darken gray.

Women Subject to Kidney Troubles

I beg to say that I have been a constant sufferer with severe pains in my back and was on the verge of nervous prostration resulting from kidney trouble and other complications. A friend of mine recommended Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as a sure cure for these troubles. Acting upon her advice I began taking Swamp-Root and began to improve before I had finished the first bottle. I continued its use until I had taken several bottles and continued to improve until I was completely cured. I am happy to say that I am as well as any woman on earth and have been so for the past nine years, thanks to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from kidney trouble.

Very truly yours,
MRS. ALVA BAXTER,
Orange, Texas.

Farmers' Institute.

The first of a current series of Farmers' Institutes was held at the hall of Bear Mountain, Friday, on Monday, with a large attendance of farmers in the town and from neighboring towns.

The meeting was opened by L. E. McIntire, who introduced C. R. Leland, Assistant Dairy Instructor, representing the State Department of Agriculture, as chairman. Mr. Leland called on W. E. McFarren of Pennsylvania, who proceeded to address the audience in a very agreeable and capable manner on the subject of Dairying, giving his own experience as a practical farmer and dairyman.

He said: "There is no higher profession, nor one more progressive than that of farming, and at the head of its fundamental producers of wealth, stands the dairyman. As representatives of the American farming community, the dairyman takes no back seat. He gave instructive experiences in the breeding and feeding of dairy cows; described the ideal points of a perfect dairy cow, and said that a good mother is preferable in producing the best dairy stock. In first feeding young calves, he described his method of using milk for that purpose, and warned against arresting the development of the growing animal. He treated at length of alfalfa as a forage plant, also of Soy beans, clover, etc., and that clover is better than alfalfa. Alfalfa, he said, should be grown alone rather than with other plants."

A sumptuous, regulation dinner was served at noon by the farm ladies of the home to which the visiting group.

The afternoon was occupied by Mr. Leland, who treated of the crops which could be produced cheaply and in largest quantity. He spoke of the importance of improved seed. Better seed, better crops.

A BRONCHIAL COUGH

is wearing and dangerous because the inflamed, mucus-filled tubes interfere with breathing and the fresh air passes through that unhealthy tissue.

Probably no other remedy affords such prompt and permanent relief as Scott's Emulsion; it checks the cough, heals the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes and strengthens the lungs to avert tuberculosis. This point cannot be emphasized too strongly—that Scott's Emulsion has been suppressing bronchitis for forty years and will help you.

Be careful to avoid substitutes and insist on SCOTT'S.

The man who wants his tobacco cut up for him months before he smokes it, just to save a minute's time, cannot blame the manufacturer because the tobacco gets dried up, burns fast in his pipe and scorches his tongue.

There's only one way to get fresh tobacco—cut it up yourself as you use it, from the Sickle plug. Then you get all the original flavor and moisture that have been pressed into the plug and kept there by the natural leaf wrapper—and you are rewarded by a cool, sweet, satisfying smoke.

Every day more smokers are coming back to the good old Sickle plug and satisfaction. Buy a plug of Sickle at your dealer's—and note how much more tobacco you get, when there's no package to pay for.

Plea for All Birds

Even Hawk and Owl.

"From the foregoing it will at once appear that the practice of offering bounties indiscriminately for the heads of hawks and owls, as has been done by some states, is a serious mistake."

"Field observation of the food habits of birds serve a useful purpose, but they are rarely accurate enough to be fully reliable. The presence of certain birds in a corn or wheat field or in an orchard is by no means proof, as is too often assumed, that they are devastating the grain or fruit. They may have been attracted by insects, which are unknown to the farmer or orchardist are ruining his crop. Hence it has been found necessary to examine the stomachs and crops of birds to ascertain definitely what and how much they eat. The Biological Survey has in this way, examined upward of 50,000 birds, more of which have been obtained during the last 25 years from scientific collections, for our birds are too useful to be sacrificed when it can possibly be avoided, even for the sake of obtaining data upon which to base legislation for their protection."

"It is interesting to observe that hungry birds—and birds are hungry most of the time—are not content to fill their stomachs with insects or seeds, but after the stomach is stuffed until it will hold no more, continue to eat until the crop or gullet is crammed. It is often the case that when the stomach is opened and the contents piled up the pile is two or three times as large as the stomach was when filled. Birds may truly be said to have healthy appetites. To show the astonishing capacity of birds' stomachs and reveal the extent to which man is indebted to birds for the destruction of noxious insects these facts are given, as learned by stomach examination made by assistants of the Biological Survey."

"A tree swallow's stomach was found to contain 40 entire cinch bugs and fragments of many others, besides ten other species of insects. A bank swallow in Texas devoured 68 cotton ball weevils, and 35 cliff swallows had taken an average of 18 ball weevils each. Two stomachs of plump shrikes from Hayward, Cal., contained 1,900 black olive scales and 30 plant lice."

"A kite's stomach taken November in Texas contained over 300 mosquito larvae. A flicker's stomach held 28 white grubs. A night hawk's stomach contained 34 may beetles. Another night hawk from New York had eaten 24 clover leaf weevils and 375 ants. Still another night hawk had eaten 340 grasshoppers, 52 bugs, 3 beetles, 2 wasps and a spider. A boat-tailed grackle from Texas had eaten at one meal about 100 cotton ball worms, besides a few other insects. A ring-necked pheasant's crop from Washington contained 3,000 seeds of chickweed and a dandelion head."

"Few are aware of the difficulty often experienced by birds in obtaining water for drinking and bathing, and a constant supply of water near the house will materially aid in attracting birds to the neighborhood and in keeping them there at least until the time of migration. Shallow trays of wood or metal admirably serve the purpose, especially as birds delight to bathe in them."

"Considerable success has been met with in Germany and elsewhere in Europe by supplying artificial nest boxes for birds, and the same success is being met in this country by the use of artificial nest boxes. The number of birds and attracting them to farms and orchards where their services are most needed should be extensively employed in this country. The experiment can be the more easily tried since several firms in the United States are now prepared to make and deliver boxes specially designed for martins, swallows, bluebirds, wrens, woodpeckers and other species."

"One of the worst foes of our native birds is the house cat, and probably none of our native wild animals destroys as many birds on the farm as cats. The household pet is by no means blameless in this respect for the bird-hunting instinct is strong even in the well-fed tabby, and much of the loss of our feathered life is attributable to the half-starved stray, which in summer is as much at home in the groves and fields as the birds themselves. Forced to forage for their own livelihood these animals, which are almost as wild as the ancestral wildcat, inflict an appalling loss on our feathered allies, and even on the smaller game birds like the woodcock and bobwhite."

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. LeClear's Health—Her Own Statement.

Detroit, Mich.—"I am glad to discover a remedy that relieves me from my suffering and pains. For two years I suffered bearing down pains and got all run down. I was under a nervous strain and could not sleep at night. I went to doctors here in the city but they did not do me any good."

"Seeing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, I tried it. My health improved wonderfully and I am now quite well again. No woman suffering from female ills will regret it if she takes this medicine."—Mrs. JAMES G. LECLEAR, 236 Hunt St., Detroit, Mich.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is all you claim it to be. About two or three days before my periods I would get bad backaches, then pains in right and left sides, and my head would ache. I called the doctor and he said I had organic inflammation. I went to him for a while but did not get well so I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I was relieved and finally my troubles left me. I married and have two little girls. I have had no return of the old troubles."—Mrs. CHAS. BOELL, 2650 S. Chadwick St., Phila., Pa.

ANOTHER CASE.

The young people of the Universalist church parish will have a Halloween party Oct. 31. The unique posters were gotten out by Mrs. J. S. Burbank.

Vivian Hutchins, Harry Young, Roger Sloane, members of the Universalist Sunday school and the pastor, Rev. J. H. Little, attended the Maine State Inter-denominational Sunday School Convention at Augusta as delegates from the Bethel Universalist Sunday School. They will also attend the Universalist State S. S. Convention which will be in Augusta at the same time.

Summer is gone and the stream of summer travel has ceased to flow, yet summer weather lingers with rain and fog of the "dog days." It is promising to furnish moisture enough to thoroughly soak the ground and fill the empty wells to the great relief of many farmers who have been driving their cattle to distant brooks to quench their thirst.

While Boston was having its two inches of snow, we up here among the mountains were having an August drizzle. Monday of this week gave us a summer hurricane with a terrific wind and the rain at times falling, as it is sometimes said, "in sheets." This mild weather has helped out the coal bins and woodpiles in saving fuel.

One of the sad events was the funeral of Mrs. Grace Greenwood Hastings, wife of T. P. Hastings, of the firm of Hastings Brothers, hardware dealers. Mrs. Hastings died at Bethel where she had been for treatment for several months. She was only 42 years of age and one whom everybody who knew her held in the highest regard. Gentle in spirit, thoughtful of others, with a kind hand and heart, ready to help in time of need, she drew to herself a host of friends. In the household, during the twenty years of married life she had shared with her husband, surrounded with every comfort to make life beautiful. For the past year she had been failing in health, and at last disease made rapid strides and the funeral was Monday, the 20th, at the home in Bethel, attended by a large assembly of friends who felt that in her going out to the higher home, they had personally lost a dear friend. She was a loyal Universalist in faith, and loved her church. She will be greatly missed in the community as well as in the home. Rev. J. H. Little attended the service and spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family and paid a just tribute to the memory of the beautiful spirit of Mrs. Hastings as it reached and influenced others.

So weak that he could hardly tell his story, young Cash was removed to the Lincoln hospital where surgeons said his condition was serious. A railroad detective found the lad, attracted by his feeble rappings on the car door.

He says: "Early this summer I lived on a farm with my relatives in West Paris, Me. I got tired of doing chores and when a circus came along I ran away with the wagon when they left and did odd jobs as hostler and canvasman."

"But the show busted up a few weeks ago in Massachusetts and I tramped it as far down as New York. I got a job in Glen Cove, L. I., and held this until last week when I thought I'd better go home again. I started to walk and Wednesday morning got as far as New London, Conn."

"I panhandled a lady for my breakfast and then I saw an empty freight car in the middle of a long train and crawled in to go to sleep. I thought I'd get well and free and get back home there'll be no more circus or tramping or freight trains for me."

Cash is a technical prisoner, held on a charge of riding illegally on the New Haven road.
